

Civilization's Fault Lines

Douglas McKee © 2019

Competition – rewards aggression, separates, and isolates

Focus on material wealth – decreasing intrinsic, personal values

No common agenda – collaboration disappears

Technology – focuses people on things instead of each other

Family Instability – relationship and emotional skills lost

Individuals – cogs in an infrastructure, not parts of a whole

Consumers of fads – not producers of value

Outgrowing resources – lack of balance, no perspective

National Identities – vests power in the most aggressive

Leadership solutions - Bribe, Bully, or Bomb

"In a time of drastic change, it is the learners who inherit the future. The learned usually find themselves equipped to live in a world that no longer exists." Eric Hoffer
